The Tulsa 40: Jonathan Hall

Vice President and Chief Operating Officer, Warburton Capital Management

Jonathan Hall, vice president and chief operating officer, Warburton Capital Management

When asked who influenced his life and career, Jonathan Hall said three names—his father, Dr. Mark Hall, State Rep. Mark McCullough and Tom Warburton.

He says his father has shown him how to be a loving husband and father, and taught him how to think critically and live life through the lens of a consistent worldview.

McCullough taught him how to be a “happy warrior,” humble to a fault and gracious to his opponents.

Warburton taught him about building a business, connecting with people and having a servant’s heart.

A few examples of Hall’s leadership involvement include:

- Hall serves on the board of Emergency Infant Services.
- Served more than three years as a youth director at Jenks First United Methodist Church.
- Active in the Creek County Republican Party.
